Germans Kill 34 and Injure 29—Raider is Pursued by Aeroplanes But Escapes.

BIG BUILDINGS ARE WRECKED BY BOMBS

Fire Follows Attack But is Kept From Spreading. Papers Demand Retaliation on Germany.

International News Service:

PARIS, Jan. 31.—The German Zeppelin which flew over Paris last night was pursued by French aeroplanes until early today, but succeeded in making its escape.

Although bombs were dropped from the Zeppelin it was officially announced today that no damage has been done.

It is learned that 31 men, women and children were killed in Saturday night's Zeppelin raid and 29 were wounded. Three more deaths occurred today, bringing the total death list up to 34.

The following official statement was given out through the government press bureau about the second raid:

"A Zeppelin flew in the direction of Paris from the German lines last night. It arrived over the city about 11 o'clock where it was shelled by our special batteries and attacked by aeroplanes. It threw bombs before re-flying northward, but latest reports show that no damage was done."

"The loss of life in Saturday's raid did not run into an enormous total as was feared. One of the projectiles thrown from the dirigible wrecked part of the subway immediately after a crowded passenger train passed. If the train had been struck hundreds of persons would doubtless have been killed."

President Poincaré who visited the stricken district and spent three hours giving such comfort as he could to the families of victims, was deeply touched by the scenes of desolation. He gave a large personal gift for the relief of the sufferers.

1,500 Feet Above City.
The Zeppelin was about 1,500 feet above the city when the bombs were dropped and the fire of the high angle guns was made less effective by fog which obscured the target.

Between 20 and 30 aeroplanes of the biggest and swiftest type went aloft to give battle to the invaders, but only five succeeded in getting close enough to fire upon the big balloon.

The bombs that were dropped from the Zeppelin were charged with an explosive of terrific power. Big buildings were smashed as though made of toothpicks and holes 20 feet deep were torn into the ground.

The attack centered upon the fringe of the most populous quarter of the city's industrial belt. After it was over the Zeppelin moved northward at top speed, flying in the direction of Levallois. By the rays of the searchlights the pursuing aeroplanes could be seen darting through the sky with the speed of "The French made several surprise attacks against the positions captured by the Sicilian troops south of the Somme river on Friday."

"East front—Russian attacks against the church yard cemetery at Weissenau on the Aa river west of Riga broke down."

"Balkan theater—There is nothing to report."

WANTS UNITED STATES TO AID THE CHINESE

The senate foreign relations committee now has under consideration the resolution introduced by Sen. Sherman of Illinois, protecting against the renewal of the Japanese demands upon China and requesting President Wilson to inform Japan that this country cannot look with indifference upon Japan's policy in the Orient.

Sen. Sherman in the preamble of his resolution, declares that the Japanese demands might result in closing such Chinese territory and some ports to all trade, excepting Japan, and that since the other powers, which joined the United States in proclaiming the "open door" policy are at war, it is the duty of the United States to uphold that policy.

Property Loss as Result of Flood is Estimated at Two Million—Fifty People Are Dead.

RACE TRACK AT TIA JUANA UNDER WATER

All Buildings Except Grandstand and Stables Gone. Three Thousand People Are Homeless.

International News Service:

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 31.—Property loss estimated at $2,000,000, the drowning of 50 persons, the desolation of the fertile Otay valley with Otay City swept clean of houses and half of Tia Juana, Mexico, denuded of houses, was the net result of the devastation caused by the bursting of the Otay dam Thursday.

Twenty-one bodies of Otay inhabitants have been recovered. Eleven have been identified as follows: Joseph Monsto, an employee of the Daneri Winery.

Rosa Monsto, his daughter, J. J. Dube, rancher, Margaret H. Dube, his wife, Carlos Began, an employee of the Daneri Winery.

W. G. Gallagher, pipe walker, Carlos Acalla, an employee of the Otay Winery.

Four Japanese ranchers. Eight bodies brought here, mostly Japanese and Mexicans, are as yet unidentified.

Ten Are Drowned.
Of the 10 persons reported drowned in the San Luis Rey cloudburst one body has been recovered.

The number of dead in Tia Juana has not been learned.

Martial law has been declared in Otay valley and districts affected by the floods.

United States sailors and marines are on guard with loaded rifles instructed to shoot any looters on sight.

Three thousand persons are homeless. Rescue parties from San Diego are supplying them with food and shelter.

The Tia Juana race track is under four feet of water. All the buildings are gone except the grandstand and stables. The grandstand was partly wrecked and moved 200 feet by the flood.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 31.—Fears of a repetition of the 1913 flood in Indiana were freely expressed today. White and Wabash rivers and many small streams are on a rampage second only to the great disaster three years ago, when damage amounting to many millions of dollars was caused.

At Lafayette and Terre Haute conditions are not so bad, but many families are deserting their homes in threatened sections.

The Ohio at Evansville has passed the flood stage for the fourth time in seven weeks. A continued rise is expected for a week because of the great volume of water the smaller streams are pouring into the big river.

Panic Prevented
By Music When Ships Collide

International News Service:
LIVERPOOL, Jan. 31.—Merry dance tunes played by the musicians of the liner Philadelphia prevented a panic on the American vessel when it was damaged in a collision with the English sailing ship, Ben Lee, Saturday night. There was a rush for the decks when the crash came, but the ship's band immediately struck up and the music and calm words from the officers subdued even the most excited.

Many of the passengers made reservations on other ships today, but some said that they would remain in Liverpool until the Philadelphia was repaired.

The work of repair was well under way today, but the liner may be unable to leave before the end of the week.

Examination of the Philadelphia was completed this afternoon. It showed that the damage suffered by the liner was such that no definite time could be set for her to sail, and arrangements may be made to transfer all her passengers to the Adriatic, sailing Wednesday.

WILL NOT ALLOW GUNS ON VESSELS

United States Will Refuse Clearance Papers to Armed Steamers.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The United States will insist that the entente allies agree to disarm their merchant vessels or they will be denied clearance from American ports. This is the attitude that the state department has decided to take despite the unofficial announcement from London and Paris that the British and French governments intend standing on the heretofore accepted rule that merchant vessels have the right to carry guns for defense.

As soon as the official text of this decision is received by Secy of State Lansing he will renew the original proposition. He will also make it plain that the entire question of compelling submarines to observe the requirements of stoppage and search of merchant vessels before sinking them hinges on the point of whether the entente governments have directed merchant vessels to carry guns to resist attacks by submarines.

Secy Lansing will not decide how the second note on the subject will be framed until he has received official refusals to his original informal suggestion that the entente allies agree to disarm their merchant vessels. It was made very plain at the state department today, however, that the Lusitania negotiations will have no part in the exchanges on this subject. The Lusitania is a separate matter and the entente allies have been so informed through their embassies here.

MIGHT HAVE LOST HER WAY IN THE FOG

Twenty Men Are on Board Submarine—Wireless is Good Only in Radius of Fifty Miles.

International News Service:

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Jan. 31.—The tug W. B. Keene has just received a wireless that the Clyde ship Mohawk sighted the missing submarine, K-5, going into Charleston and apparently had become separated from the rest of the flotilla in the fog.

International News Service:
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Six vessels of the coast guard and naval service are combing the waters of the Atlantic from the Virginia capes south to a point beyond Charleston, S. C., for the submarine K-5, missing more than 24 hours. The submarine is commanded by Lieut. R. C. Brady and carries a junior lieutenant and a crew of 18 men. According to navy department officials she is one of the best submarines in the service and has a perfect record.

The K-5 became detached from the parent ship, Tallahassee, while proceeding south from the Brooklyn navy yard to the Florida drill grounds some time after 1 o'clock Sunday morning. Since that time no word of her whereabouts has been received and officials, while insisting that she was "probably simply lost in the fog," were admittedly very anxious today.

Sent in Search.
By orders of Secy of the Navy Daniels, the coast guard cutters Yamacraw and Seminole, the lightship tender Panther and two destroyers have been sent out by Commandant B. C. Bryant from Charleston to search for the missing vessel.

Submarines of the K-5 type, while equipped with wireless, can communicate only with a radius of 50 miles, and if the K-5 lost her way in the fog she might easily have gone that far beyond the wireless limit of the searching squadron.

In addition to Lieut. Brady there are on board the missing submarine Junior Grade Lieut. Hugh C. Frazer and her regular crew, all highly trained men who have been serving in her for several months. She is 155 feet long and is using the old style naval batteries for propulsion.

The vessel was built in 1913 by the Electric Boat Co. at their yards at Quincy, Mass., and was commissioned on Aug. 22, 1914. Last summer she made a trip from New York to Pensacola and return under her own power.

The last word received from the K-5 was 1 o'clock Sunday morning when she reported to the Tallahassee. At that time she was 40 miles northeast of Charleston.

ARMANDE LAVERGNE. OINT. FILE SERVICE

Armande Lavergne, the great nationalist leader among the French in Canada is outspoken in his sentiments against French-Canadian enlistments to aid England in the war. Lavergne says the French in Canada should not enlist until they receive their rights from England, that the French-Canadians owe nothing to England and have twice saved Canada in wars.

Small notice, it is said, is taken of Lavergne's opposition, due to the fact that the Canadian government does not wish to give the Germans the opportunity of declaring that there is revolution in Canada. Lavergne is a great speaker and has a large following.

MINERS FAIL TO BAR MILITIAMEN

Resolution to Expel Any Member Who Joins Guard is Defeated.

International News Service:
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 31.—Efforts to amend the constitution of the United Mine Workers of America to exclude members of the state militia and state constabulary failed in the convention this morning. The delegates adopted the report of the committee on constitution which was against the proposed measure. The resolution was introduced by Adolph Gerner of Illinois. Debate lasted several hours on this question.

The miners sought legal advice in the matter after Pres't Wilson had advised against any such action as it might be illegal. Henry Warrum, general attorney for the organization, said such action would be illegal inasmuch as it would be against the policy of public opinion and the statutes of the states.

However, all those who spoke in the debate today expressed opinions against the militia used as strike-breakers.

With this measure out of the way the convention only had the recommendation of the executive committee to reduce the size of future conventions to dispose of and it was thought probable the 1916 convention would close tonight.

WORD PASSED AROUND THAT BREAK IS NEAR

International News Service:
LONDON, Jan. 31.—Word is being quickly passed to Americans that now is the time to leave England; that the crisis is acute between Germany and the United States, and that breaking of diplomatic relations between those two countries will result in another great submarine campaign by Teuton U boats that will make insignificant the first attacks which resulted in the sinking of several trans-Atlantic liners and scores of smaller vessels.

Whence came the warning to Americans no one professes to know. It certainly was not issued by the American embassy. Nevertheless, citizens of the United States have been advised to leave if they wish to escape the perils of attacks on the high seas.

BANDITS MURDER
MOTHER AND SON

Members of Auto Party Put Up Battle When Stopped by Negroes.

International News Service:
BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 31.—Bandits held up an automobile party two miles outside of Buffalo on the Orchard Park road early today and killed two members of the party—a man and woman—when they met with resistance. Two others were badly injured.

The bandits fled after they had committed the double murder. They are believed to be negroes.

Fred C. Teiper, a prominent business man of Buffalo, and his mother, Mrs. Charles Teiper, a leader in Buffalo society, were shot to death by the highwaymen.

Grace Teiper, a sister of the slain man, suffered a fractured skull from a blow struck by one of the bandits and is expected to die. She was brought to a local hospital with another brother, John Teiper, who was also brutally beaten. His injuries are severe, but he probably will recover.

John Teiper said that the only bandit whose features he was able to make out was a negro and as a result of the description he gave the police, dragnets were thrown out today in the negro district of Buffalo.

Teiper told the police that as the motor car was being driven slowly by his brother in the darkness the highwaymen suddenly sprang in front of the automobile as it rounded a curve in the Orchard Park road. Stopping the car with a threat to shoot they ordered the occupants to alight. They did so, but the two brothers grappled with the bandits as soon as they reached the ground.

One of the bandits then opened fire, killed Fred Teiper and his mother, John Teiper found resistance useless and yielded, but the enraged bandits then beat him into insensibility with the butts of their revolvers. Then they also beat his sister.

Both the survivors probably would have been killed had not another motor car frightened the bandits away. They fled into the trees alongside the road.

BRANDEIS SHOULD WIN

International News Service:
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The sub-committee appointed by the senate judiciary committee today to investigate the president's nomination of Louis D. Brandeis of Boston to be associate justice of the United States supreme court, will consist of Sens. Chilton, democrat, of West Virginia; Fletcher, democrat, of Florida; Walsh, democrat, of Montana; Clark, republican, of Wyoming; and Cummins, republican, of Iowa.

The personnel of the committee is regarded as favorable to Brandeis' confirmation.

Sens. Chilton, Fletcher and Walsh are strong administration supporters, and Sen. Cummins belongs to the progressive-republican faction. It is realized that Pres't Wilson will likely support such a tax if it legally can be imposed.

PRESIDENT IN SHORT ADDRESS
AT WAUKEGAN

Holds Crowd is Evidence That People of Nation Are Interested in National Defense.

REACHES MILWAUKEE ON SCHEDULE TIME

Greeted by Immense Crowd. He and Mrs. Wilson Leave to Go to Hotel For Luncheon.

International News Service:

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 31.—Pres't Wilson's special train arrived here nearly on time early this afternoon. The president and his bride were greeted by an immense crowd as they left the train to go to the Pfister hotel for a private luncheon.

International News Service:
WAUKEGAN, Ill., Jan. 31.—Pres't Wilson made his first speech from the train in addressing the preparedness here today to a crowd of several hundred men and women. He spoke from the rear end of his own car, which was the last on the train. The crowd surged up around the car despite the efforts of the secret service men to keep them at a distance.

The president appeared smiling and acknowledging the cheering that met his appearance, launched at once into his plea for the country to back him up in his fight for a better national defense. Flags were everywhere in the Waukegan crowd and hundreds of school children were in the crowd.

"Looks like a holiday crowd," said the president. "However, I am not on a holiday errand. I take this great crowd as evidence of your interest in national defense," said the president.

"It is impossible in circumstances like these to discuss this very important question, but I take this very crowd as an evidence of your spontaneous interest in it, and I am reassured with regard to the attitude of my fellow countrymen concerning this great matter. You have not come out, I believe, to greet me as an individual, but to show your interest in and loyalty to the government of the United States. I can only give you my very best wishes and say that you may take it for granted that we will do the best we can to take care of your interests."

Pres't Wilson during his brief stop in Chicago today, took occasion to deny a Washington story in a morning paper to the effect that he had changed his policy with regard to Americans traveling on ships of belligerent nations.

Without foundation.
"The story is absolutely without foundation," said Private Sec'y Tumulty who made the announcement.

WILSON WILL GET NAVAL INCREASES

International News Service:
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Pres't Wilson will get his demanded naval increases; an increase in the field and coast artillery of the country, and the men who will benefit most by this preparedness move will pay the bills. That was the opinion today not only of administration leaders here, but also of many political chiefs who at heart are strongly opposed to the presidential program of preparedness.

The speeches made by the president are already declared to be bearing fruit. Middle western and southern senators and congressmen who have been working under cover to sidetrack any real increases of the army and navy are beginning to "hear from the corn fields" it was learned today.

The big suggestion that has provided a "get together" plan for spending money on the navy has been the statement that a way yet will be found to get around the constitutional provision that heretofore has seemed to make the innovation manufacturers exempt from an internal revenue tax. Some of the sharpest legal minds in congress are working on this proposition and they think they will have a bill that will make it impossible to make the munitions manufacturers pay most of the bills and at the same time exempt supplies purchased by the United States.

It is realized that Pres't Wilson will likely support such a tax if it legally can be imposed.
